

The Annean IMPRINTS 2022-23

BACK TO SCHOOL

St. Anne Our Patron Saint

Saint Anne, Hebrew for Hannah, meaning “grace”, was the mother of the Virgin Mary and grandmother of Jesus Christ. She was a pious and devout servant of the Almighty.

According to a document known as the ‘Gospel of James’, Anne and her husband Joachim, after years of childlessness, prayed desperately to God to bless them with a child. They were eventually visited separately, by an angel who told them that their prayer had been answered.

Anne promised to dedicate the child to God's service. Anne conceived and bore a daughter, whom she called Mary. When Mary was three years old, Joachim and Anne, in fulfilment of Anne’s divine promise, brought Mary to the Temple of Jerusalem, where they left her to be brought up.

St. Anne reminds us, in the midst of this pandemic, to continue to have faith in God and trust in His plan, even when things look impossible or hopeless.

Children are a blessing from God and we dedicate our young Anneans to the care and protection of God and His ultimate plan for our happiness.

I am happy to know that St. Anne's Convent School, Chandigarh is bringing out its E-magazine. I am glad that School is steadily marching ahead in imparting good education to the children in and around of Chandigarh. St. Anne's Convent School, Chandigarh helps the students to excel both in curricular and extra-curricular activities to develop their hidden talents in different fields of their liking. It paves a way to become more innovative, creative and original in terms of Arts, Literature, Science and Technology. Certainly, the education system of a school aims at this genuine task of making the students realize of their inborn talents and transforming them into leaders to serve God's people.

Here I'm reminded of this quote of John Sloan Dickey that; "The end of education is to see men made whole, both in competence and in conscience. For to create the power of competence without creating a corresponding direction to guide the use of that power is bad education. Furthermore, competence will finally disintegrate apart from conscience."

Hence this is my PRAYER, that St. Anne's Convent School, Chandigarh may continue to help in bringing about students and their families with strong habits of virtue like Integrity, Loyalty, Compassion and the practice of Self-Discipline under the demands of divinely spoken truth. I congratulate the Manager, Principal, teachers for imparting value-based education to the Children and making them bearers of the same in the society. May they continue to render their selfless service and work hard for the people of Chandigarh always. May God bless the Manager, Principal, teachers, students, staff and all the well-wishers.

With my kind regards and best wishes.

Yours Sincerely in Christ

Our Guiding Light

The Visionary

The ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle valued education as an Imperative to the holistic development of an individual. Therefore, he said “Educating the mind without educating the heart is no education”. At St. Anne’s Convent school, sector 32 Chandigarh under the able guidance of successive Principals have been doing exactly what the great philosopher envisaged centuries ago.

To show case this thought process of the young mind the school is bringing out the E magazine and I am very pleased to congratulate the young minds under the leadership of Sr. Jessy Augustine, the principal and the dedicated teachers. This has taken a lot of efforts on the part of the teachers and the students closely monitored by the principal.

I thank you sincerely for your efforts and wish you all the best for the coming months ahead of you for better working and raising the bar of learning with the school motto “let your light shine”.

Fr. Ambrose D'Souza

School Manager

The True Leader

“Tiny steps will get you to your goal, months and months sooner. A little is better than a lot” each child who arrives in St. Anne’s family, comes with his or her own individual challenges. Our task during their time in school is to help them to love and accept themselves as they are by being realistic and true to one-self and guide them to blossom in their academic, social and emotional life.

As Swami Vivekananda said, “We want that education by which character is formed, strength of mind is increased, the intellect is expanded, and by which one stand on one’s own feet “. Education inculcates fundamentals of values, impressed by intellect, which imbibed and transfused in the society by their humanism increase the ability to connect with the people. Teaching accountability, encourage them to be accountable for their own actions, makes them capable of decision making, in tune with the values, culture, morals, compassion, ethics and needs of society. By educating the heart means by imparting moral values which produce integrity, virtue and character, a holistic approach which considers physical, emotional, social and spiritual wellbeing of body, mind & spirit. An institution works properly when each member working in unison and harmony whilst doing their own particular role as a student, role as teacher, role as parents in progressing the virtues of positivity, acceptance, peace and contentment.

We are building our school around the theme, “No child is left behind”. Ample consideration is given to the strengths of every child with an opportunity to grow in that specific outlook. I congratulate and appreciate the members of the editorial team for their wonderful portrayal of the glimpses. I whole heartedly thank the school management, parents, staff, students and all stakeholders for their continued support in all our endeavors. May all the Anneans’ march forward to fulfill their school motto “Let your light shine”. Wishing all our students an ecstatic, meaningful and successful journey ahead.

EDITORS' NOTE

Mahatma Gandhi once said 'Strength does not come from physical capacity, it comes from indomitable will. Three years ago, when the pandemic struck the whole world, we were staring at a very unprecedented scenario. Everywhere around us, life as we knew it, was coming to a grinding halt. All around the world, as we knew it, was collapsing. Businesses shut down, livelihoods were lost, economies crippled, hospitals were looking at a never-ending deluge of patients, and schools and colleges were looking at a scenario where traditional classroom teaching as we knew it, wasn't happening anymore.

But today as we look back, we realise that we clawed our way back, from what seemed to be a hopeless situation, on a global scale. That was only possible because of the same indomitable will, that the Mahatma spoke of. And it is this very spirit that we teachers see in our students. Two years of their carefree childhood or life, as they once knew, was lost, forever. But the bounce back to normalcy, began immediately. Every single student surmounted obstacle of various kinds to reach where we are today. There still is some ground to cover and the onus is upon us Teachers to be that beacon of hope and encouragement. We still need to look forward to putting in nothing less than superlative efforts to mentor and harness the best out of every student, and dear Students, each time in life whenever you are faced with problems, remember these words of the Mahatma and no hurdle will ever seem too high.

We would like to thank our Manager, Rev. Fr. Ambrose, our Principal, Rev. Sr. Jessy and all the teachers and students who have helped us compile this wonderful magazine. The constant efforts of the teachers who helped the young minds to get busy and going, has brought fruitful results, which we are sure, will be appreciated and admired by all.

“Your goals should be out of reach, but not out of sight.”

“EDUCATION IS NOT PREPARATION FOR LIFE EDUCATION IS LIFE ITSELF “

I, as a student of St Anne's feel extremely fortunate to have been a part of such a great institution where I, could receive a well rounded education and acquire skills which helped me to break my limits and outgrow myself.

The greatest assets of St Anne's are its teachers, who bring out the best in students.” The test of the teachers is not how many questions he can ask his pupils that they can answer readily, but how many questions he inspires to ask him, which he finds it hard to answer “and such are the teachers of St Anne's .

A supportive learning environment, effective school leadership, clear and shared focus on tasks, good infrastructure - St. Anne's provides it all. I am glad that I could be a part of St. Anne's family as it made me a more confident, determined and disciplined person. It prepared me for life and made me realise of what my true capabilities are.

As someone who came from a non-medical background, I had an amazing experience at St. Anne's that I would like to share. During my time there, I learned the true value of sincerity and hard work, which was only made possible by the teachers who supported and guided me.

Despite the challenges that came with online classes, I was able to push through and achieve success. This experience taught me the importance of dedication, perseverance, and the value of listening to those who guide and support you.

I believe that by remaining consistent and following the advice of mentors, anyone can reach their goals and achieve great things.

AN ODE TO A LIFE CHANGING DECADE AT ST ANNE'S

I feel extremely blessed to have spent my formative years at St. Anne's Convent School. Joining at Kindergarten in 2008, these fourteen years were the years of endless learning, growth and transformation. As I, look back today, I realise the magnificent impact this wonderful institution brought into my life. St Anne's nurtured me with love and knowledge in equal measures. Knowledge, that was not only limited to academics but also comprised of morals, ethics and values, that carved me into a person capable of facing different facets of life.

At this juncture, I would like to share snippets of my scholastic journey with my fellow young Anneans. Always look forward to learn, and gain knowledge and experience from every little happening during your school life. Don't just study for grades, instead be excited to learn and grow through the process; good grades and marks will surely follow. Always strive to be become a better human by imbibing the values St. Anne's has instilled in us through the years and contribute towards the betterment of the society.

I will forever be grateful to all my teachers who have always enlightened me and guided me on the right path through all these years. Thank you for instilling in me the proclivity for learning and life. I shall forever be indebted to my school for shaping me into a better human being.

EVAN SHARMA
MEDICAL TOPPER 93.4 %

My journey in St Anne's so far holds the most treasured experiences of my life. No words can express my gratitude to my teachers who supported me like a rock of strength, encouraging me, and pushing me to do far more than I could have ever envisioned. These 11 years have been incredible. I did experience my share of ups and downs. But it was the faith of my parents and all the teachers which brought out the best in me.

Failures are part of life. What matters is how we embrace the challenges, face them head on and having confidence in ourselves that no matter what we will pass through it and bounce back stronger than before. Everything from academic learning to inter-house competitions and annual sports days, all shaped the person I am today. The moment we entered our class 10th, everyone encouraged us to achieve our best. The lowest point in this experience was taking our board examinations twice, but it was our teachers who inspired us stay focused and accept the change positively. Despite having online classes, they never failed to motivate us to work consistently.

The secret to achieving good grades is not studying for hours, but to create a plan and sticking to it. Attentively listening to teachers and completing the tasks assigned are more than enough to succeed. Being consistent and working hard is the key. Take each day as it comes and it will automatically guide you to your long-term goals. Understanding the concepts and enjoying the learning experience is very important. We can't appreciate a subject thoroughly until we enjoy the learning process. Lastly, I would say it is important to believe in yourselves and to trust your mentors.

"Always remember you are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem and smarter than you think".

St. Anne's Jubilarians

Congratulations

As I reflect on the past 25 years of my teaching in St. Anne's, I am filled with a sense of pride and accomplishment. It has been a demanding, fascinating and a deeply rewarding 25 years.

Over the years, I have had the privilege of teaching, nurturing, guiding and mentoring hundreds of students, watching young minds grow, each with their own unique personalities, talents, and challenges. Some have gone on to achieve great success, while others have faced setbacks and struggles. But no matter what, I have always been there to support and guide them, to challenge them to be their best selves, and to help them discover their passions and talents.

As a teacher, I have learned so much from my students. I have learned to be patient and understanding, to listen and empathize, to be flexible and adaptable. I have learned that every student has the potential to succeed, no matter their background or circumstances. And I have learned that teaching is not just about imparting knowledge, but about nurturing the whole person and helping them to develop into confident, responsible, and compassionate individuals. In fact, one might add that this bond of mentoring and nurturing a student is so deep and strong, that come year-end, one often feels an aching void as the student leaves for a higher class. And I'm positive that this is a common aspect among most teachers.

Of course, there have been challenges along the way. Teaching is not an easy profession, and there are numerous occasions and instances where one's resolve and commitment as a teacher, is tested. I am sure that all my teaching colleagues will agree on this. But through it all, I have remained steadfast and faithful to my students and to the joy of teaching.

Though my teaching career spans a few more additional years, this School has always been like a second home for me and the former students, a few hundred in number, like an extended family to me.

As I look back on the past 25 years, I am grateful for all the wonderful memories and experiences I have had. I am grateful for the countless students who have touched my life and taught me so much. And I am grateful for the opportunity to have made a difference in their lives, as they have certainly made a difference in mine. It feels like just yesterday that I stepped into my first classroom, eager to make a difference in the lives of my students Here's to the next 25 years of teaching!

Mrs. Vandana Mathew

Congratulations

As I commemorate 25 years of teaching, it seems like time has flown by. I still vividly remember my first day at St. Anne's Convent School, brimming with enthusiasm to make a positive impact on my students' lives. I began my teaching journey with 8th-grade students, and little did I know how much I would enjoy teaching them and the many others who followed.

Looking back, I've come to realize that teaching is a two-way street. While I have imparted knowledge and skills to my numerous students, they have also taught me a lot in return. As I celebrate this milestone, I'm struck by the fact that although I may have only taught a student for a year or two, the lessons they learned and memories of our time together can stay with them for years to come. It brings me great joy to see my students grow up to be successful doctors, engineers, IAS officers, bankers, entrepreneurs, and more. Knowing that I played a role in their journey fills me with a sense of pride and purpose.

I'm immensely grateful to St. Anne's School for recognizing my strengths and talents, and for allowing me to be myself throughout my teaching career. They have supported me every step of the way, from middle school teacher to high school teacher to school coordinator. I feel that teaching has been my life's purpose, and I'm grateful for the contentment and fulfillment it has brought me.

Mrs. Linda Mendez

Congratulations

It has been an incredibly rewarding experience teaching at St Anne's for the past twenty five years. It is indeed a major milestone in my life.

I always knew that I wanted to work with children and make a positive impact on their lives. I learnt that by being patient and persistent, I can help my students to make progress and achieve their goals.

There have been numerous memorable moments to cherish throughout my career. The workshops, trainings and online courses empowered us as teachers and made us tech savvy. I whole heartedly thank the school management and teachers for always supporting and staying with me through thick and thin.

My advice for the young teachers is to always remember the importance of building trust and rapport with your students for creating a positive and effective environment. It's important to be patient, open minded and always willing to learn and adapt.

The new session 2022-23 of Kindergarten started with excitement and apprehension as the students moved from Online Classes to Offline mode. In our continued effort to develop their all round personalities and to make them aware of our rich cultural heritage, regular assemblies and activities were conducted during the year. Students actively celebrated festivals like Janmashtmi, Dussehra, Independence day, Christmas and many more. They enthusiastically participated in Inter - class Recitation and English Story Telling Competitions. The academic year flew off cheerfully in the company of the bubbly and chirpy toddlers. It has been a fruitful and fun- filled year. We hope and pray that their potential further blooms in the years to come.

Parents Orientation Program

Mrs. Sarika Kapila

A CHILD'S FAMILIAL RELATIONSHIP ACTS AS A BLUE PRINT FOR ALL HIS/HER FORTHCOMING RELATIONSHIPS.

Parenting has become more challenging in recent times due to unique obstacles that previous generations didn't encounter. Factors like technological advancements and the need to balance work and parenting have made it difficult for parents to navigate the changing landscape of raising children. However, being a parent can also bring immense fulfillment.

Being a good parent involves demonstrating love and appreciation for your children while imparting a strong moral compass that distinguishes right from wrong. Creating a nurturing environment that nurtures growth and development is crucial. This environment allows children to flourish and develop into confident, independent, and compassionate adults who possess self-worth and the ability to rely on their own capabilities.

DIGITAL DEVICES HAS CHANGED THE CHILDHOOD

Digital devices have had a profound impact on childhood, changing the way children interact with their families and the world around them. Parents should be aware of the potential risks associated with digital media use, such as accessing sexually explicit and violent content online, being bullied or harassed, and potential signs of abuse. With the ever-changing landscape of technology, it is essential for parents to stay up-to-date on the latest trends and help their children navigate this new world. To help protect children online, parents can set up parental controls on their devices and limit digital media for younger family members.

ABODE OF BOOKS

"UNLOCKING THE WORLD OF KNOWLEDGE AND IMAGINATION"

The provision of a school library is a crucial resource for educational institutions, offering students an entry point into a realm of knowledge and imagination. The library provides access to a diverse range of resources that can inspire creativity and enhance learning, transforming it into a dynamic learning environment rather than a mere repository of books. In addition to promoting literacy and a passion for reading, school libraries also promote equity in education, as they offer students resources that may not be accessible at home, thereby bridging the digital divide. By prioritizing the school library, we can empower students with the necessary tools to succeed and prosper in the modern age.

There's Something Special

Bridge which standing upon
Between adult and charm gone,
Sometimes owning a fiery rage
There's something special in teenage.

Heart and mind always worried
Deep in my emotions buried,
Still carrying a smile on stage
There's something special in teenage.

Caught in a school of pretence
Adept to deal with ignorance,
Free but still in cage
There's something special in teenage.

Friends true and friends fake
Everyone once drowned in the lake,
Carrying sweet and bitter in my luggage
There's something special in teenage.

Loved many still failed
My glory many curtailed,
Still holding on the same page
There's something special in teenage.

Always remember the position downstage
Will eventually soar to upstage,
End of playing backstage,
Believe me,
There's something special in teenage.

friendship

Friendship – a word that is usually defined,
As a relationship beautifully refined.
The way I see, it is, in fact;
A hundred things more than just that.

Friendship is a bond that plays important roles,
Its absence often leaves a spot in many souls.
People tied in its string find it hard to argue;
The bridge of understanding is what keeps them glued.

Friendship has no rules – some practice simplicity,
A few playful ones believe in its publicity.
Sometimes expressed through gifts, wishes and tunes;
Many may cherish it through football match reviews!

Loyalty, gratitude, trust and sacrifice,
The qualities that make you rise in your BFF's eyes.
True friendship isn't about whom you've known the longest,
It's about the soul you can rely on and forget all the rest.

‘Is The Creator No Longer Remembered?’

People’s excellence in every field has reached a great height.
All they speak in their interviews is that, it is their hard work; their might.
You will find many who will say, ‘It is I who won the race’,
But very few will you find, who say, ‘It is truly, God’s grace’.

When an accident takes place, they will mostly blame God saying, ‘Why did he do it?’
But when something wonderful happens, they won’t even bother to mention him in it.

It is he who gives you health and he who gives you strength,
He who loves you and he who protects you.
Everyday his mercies are brand new,
Then why are your thanks to him so few?

Open your eyes and see,
He has answered your every small plea.
When you call, he is there,
Then why don’t you acknowledge his part’s share?

So my dear friends,
Remember that it is the Creator who knows his creation’s needs.
So honour him and please him,
Through your acknowledging deeds.

ANGER IS KILLING

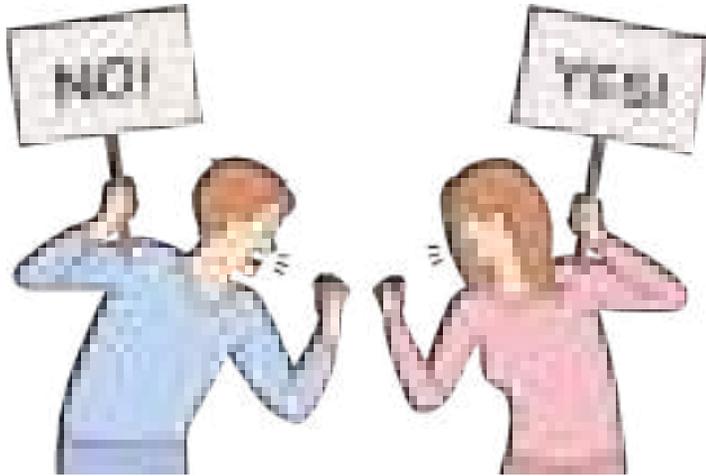

Anger is an emotion characterized by a feeling of hate towards someone or something. It is a physical emotion that is common and it's neither good nor bad till it's under control. Most of us must be suffering from anger issues every day and when it is out of control and we struggle to handle it.

Sometimes, a person must be filled with lots of emotions and his level of tolerance and patience must be at the limit, this happens when he is not able to share his feelings with anyone and that time anger start accumulating inside oneself. This is something that gets dominance on oneself and the person bursts out with anger. Sometimes, the person may regret it, after all the chaos that have may occurred because of his anger.

The chaos created by the person's anger may lead him to overthinking, causing depression. Anger again starts accumulating in oneself, in some or other way it starts killing a person mentally and even sometimes physically. Due to which the person starts getting depressed, over tired, frustrated or irritated.

The cause of anger can be prevented by sharing it with someone, if no one then can be shared with God. Even one can have a personal diary in which he can write all his feelings even if he is happy, sad, angry, or stressed. By diverting your mind towards your hobbies like reading, playing, dancing, listening to music or anything that a person loves to do. Don't allow anger to kill you or get dominance on you. Just be happy, loving, kind, stress free, patient and enjoy your life. Adopt a dog, as they are great stress busters and help to heal too. Life is beautiful don't let anger destroy it. 😊

'Silver hours'

If I were to ask everyone, "Which hour do you like the most?" I wouldn't be surprised if many would prefer the brightest golden hour of the day, but for me, it would be my 'Silver hour'.

Remember the hour when it's dark but not dark enough for the sky to turn ebon. The hour when only the harmonious mixture of street light and moonlight weaves its way through the room. That hour is my 'Silver Hour'. I have my core memories attached to my silver hour. I remember traveling from a dark place to a certainly brighter one while I saw the blue sky slowly turn black. The street lights glittered so brightly that they could make the stars jealous. It was fascinating how something could feel like spring regardless of the season.

My Silver hour was that hour when I felt the most vulnerable but also the strongest. It was like reading a book about myself where I'd explore a new chapter every day. Sometimes sad and sometimes happy, but isn't that the rule of nature? After every winter, must come a spring, and after every spring, must come a winter.

So, whenever I feel overwhelmed, I often find myself reflecting in my 'Silver Hour'. Maybe it's a coping mechanism but one thing I'm certain about is that life can get tiring sometimes but these are the little things, the little 'Silver hours' are the ones which give us hope to strive for the better. And maybe that's why people say 'enjoy the little things in life' because these might be the strings which attach us to our future self, which gives us another reason to thrive for.

MY FIRST SCHOOL EXPERIENCE AFTER COVID-19

731 days of waiting and waiting,
Got my head spinning and spinning.
Wanted to just run away,
But what I could even do anyway?

Online education made its way,
I missed my friends more than ever every day.
But finally the wait of ages had its end,
And I had got normal classes to attend.

The very first day, my bus got me delayed,
Sections were shuffled and so my friends.
All alien eyes were staring at me,
But seeing my closest friends made me happy.

Covid- a big evil, snatched away my those 2 years,
But I didn't let that feeling shed any tears.
I adjusted myself with my new peers,
And I can't forget this fantastic year!

FEAR IS WHAT STOPS YOU AND COURAGE IS WHAT KEEPS YOU GOING.....

Success often comes effortlessly when things are going well, but when things take a turn for the worse, that's when true perseverance, determination, and willpower come into play. It's crucial to give everything you have and push yourself to your limits during such times.

My passion for cricket has been with me since childhood, and it's a sport that I'm naturally drawn to. From sleeping with a cricket ball in my hand to now playing the game, my love for cricket has only grown stronger. Even during tough times, what keeps me motivated is my unwavering determination, passion, and the desire to become the best player, represent my country and make it proud. To achieve what is beyond one's grasp, one must be willing to make significant sacrifices.

Abhay Veer Singh, a student in 9th grade, has been demonstrating his dedication of practicing golf for an extended period of time. He has competed in numerous golf tournaments and championships across various golf courses in Chandigarh, Mohali, and Panchkula.

His hard work finally paid off when he achieved second place in the 18th Junior Golf Championship.

Kano Jigoro, the founder of Judo, once said, "The purpose of Judo is to perfect yourself and to contribute to the society". Judo is a technique of self-defence which uses the opponent's strength to conquer them, making it possible for a smaller opponent to defeat a larger opponent. Anyone can practice Judo irrespective of age, weight or height. It is a relatively safe sport as it doesn't involve kicking or striking techniques. It is an incredible activity to boost physical fitness, build leg and arm muscles, improve agility and flexibility and also improves the cardiovascular system.

What encouraged him to continue Judo were not the winners but the players in his cohort who show up every day without a single miss. They don't care about the weather or the circumstances and are willing to reach the academy every morning at 4 AM where they under go an extensive set of physical training followed by learning techniques to improve their skills. Both winners and losers learn the beauty of sports. While winners celebrate their successful practice, sports teach everyone else to hone their skills and practice better for the next time.

It has been almost a decade since badminton came into my life and my introduction became ‘An Indian Badminton Player who represents Chandigarh at National Badminton circuit’. I have been consistently ranked among the top players in India Ranking, reaching as high as No. 6. I retained the title of Chandigarh State Championship for 4 years and I have also played in the national events representing my school and even participated in open entries.

Diving into the history, my parents had always been teaching me the importance of fitness since childhood, which influenced me to join sports. I have played many sports like swimming, skating, cricket, lawn tennis and now boxing as well. My father played Badminton at State level from Delhi, which in turn gave me a direction. I discovered my badminton talent at the age of 8, and started my professional training, while continuing my studies side by side. I have got constant support from my school and my parents, and by that I got selected in various academies for training and got a chance to meet Pullela Gopichand. I am also appointed as the sports Captain for the academic year 2022-23.

I believe in the words of Milkha Singh, “Hard work, Will power and Dedication. For a man with these qualities, sky is the limit.” My day starts at around 4 in the morning. I train nearly 6 hours in a day which includes badminton drills, high intensity workouts, weight training with a strict diet. Other than this, I try to manage time for regular tuitions and self-study. Some of the little-known facts about me are that: I am fond of video games, musical instruments, automobiles, technology, travelling; and even with my versatile interests I have been successful in maintaining the balance between these interests and my goals. So, one always doesn't need to sacrifice the things they love but wisely balance them in their lives.

Yoga has been a part of our country's tradition since ancient times, originally practiced to attain "moksh" and "mukti". However, in modern times, it is a means to achieve physical, mental, and spiritual fitness. It is a highly effective method to refresh and detoxify the body, mind, and soul, and can be performed by anyone of any age and anywhere since it does not require any complex infrastructure. Practicing yoga at home is also an excellent way to maintain overall fitness (sarvaangeen vikaas). My interest in yoga was kindled by my parents, who are both national-level yoga players. My father is also a national-level yoga judge, and accompanying him to competitions motivated me to pursue this activity. Practicing yoga with my mother is enjoyable, and it has helped me understand my capabilities and potential. It has also assisted me in focusing on my studies and reducing stress during exams. Additionally, practicing yoga has helped me maintain my physical and mental well-being even during the pandemic.

In memory of the first Principal of our school, Sr Alberta, the school organises a cricket tournament every year. The tournament was held between the various houses of the school . Yellow House of the school won the trophy
