In Gratitude, Growth and Purpose

As I reflect on the year gone by and look ahead to the path before us, I am filled with gratitude and a renewed sense of purpose. The past months have offered rich experiences that have translated into cherished memories and meaningful learning for our entire school community. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Br. Augustine and the Brothers in the community for their continued guidance and support, and my sincere appreciation to our dedicated staff, whose commitment shapes the character and future of our young lads, guiding them to grow into responsible and compassionate individuals. I also thank our parents for their trust and partnership, which remains integral to our shared journey.

Our students have made us proud through their achievements across sports and various inter- and intra-school activities, reflecting a dynamic environment where each child is encouraged to discover and develop his potential. The musical SMIKE stands out as a memorable highlight, bringing together students, teachers, and alumni in a truly inspiring collaboration. As we move forward, we seek the Almighty's blessings to guide us with wisdom and strength in all that lies ahead.

"Act justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with your God."

Coordinator's Desk

As an educator, I stand at a unique intersection of responsibility and influence, where every action, word, and intention shapes young minds. I believe that true leadership in education lies not only in maintaining standards, but in nurturing an environment where discipline is balanced with empathy, and structure coexists with understanding.

In our pursuit of excellence, it is equally important to foster joy, curiosity, and a sense of belonging among our students. When we lead with integrity, clarity, and calm conviction, we not only guide our learners but also inspire them to grow into thoughtful and responsible individuals.

Education, after all, is not just about achieving outcomes—it is about shaping character, building resilience, and creating a community rooted in respect and purpose

In the words of Abraham Lincoln "The best way to predict your future is to create it."

As we wrap up another fantastic year at St. John's, the middle school has been buzzing with excitement and creativity! From fun events to academic achievements, our students have shown incredible energy and enthusiasm.

This year, we've had Sports days, various competitions and our very own Vanmahotsav and Heritage Day, that sparked curiosity and creativity. Our students explored new interests, made lasting friendships, and grew into confident learners.

A big shoutout to all the students, teachers, and parents who made this year memorable! Here's to more adventures, learning, and fun in the years ahead.

Looking forward to seeing you all shine!

Best wishes
Ms.Shivani Marwaha
(Middle School Coordinator)

Coordinator's Desk

It seems just like yesterday the academic session started. In the blink of an eye, we've watched young ones come in crying turn into smiles and hugs for their teachers at the end. Open shoelaces became well-tied knots. Not knowing how to tie a tie became the look of a well-worn gentlemen's tie. Struggling to open a water bottle became confidently filling them up.

The year was full of activities that made our young lads grow wiser, taller, and stronger: interclass competitions, assemblies, Sports Day, Page Turners, creating a Wonderland, hands-on activities, quizzes, the KG show, and the SMIKE musical. The competent and dedicated teachers ensured academics and co-curricular activities wove together seamlessly, making learning interesting and effective while bringing out the best in every child.

Working with students who needed support beyond classrooms, the teachers exemplified deep commitment and creativity. The outreach program took students beyond their comfort zones to experience life's realities. They got in touch with feelings evoked by learning about the various challenges people face.

Guided always by Pro Deo et Patria-For God and Country ....our school motto, we close this year with gratitude. It's pure joy to witness the progress. Looking forward to yet another productive and glorious academic session ahead, keeping our motto close to heart.

Best wishes
Ms.Mandeep Cheema

‘Cowards die many times before their deaths; The valiant never taste of death but once.’ 🦅

Since it’s establishment in 1959, St. John’s High School has remained an important institution for the holistic development and nurturing of young and eager minds. Following the teachings of Blessed Edmund Rice, our school lives by the teachings and precepts of Jesus Christ and seeks to bring out the best in every student. The spirit of St. John's is anchored in the four touchstones of Edmund Rice Christian Brothers’ Education namely compassion, justice and advocacy, inclusive education and spirituality. Our motto ‘Pro Deo Et Patria’ translates to ‘For God and Country’ which is etched in the hearts of every Johnian. Being our second home, St John’s creates a unique sense of belonging between the teachers and students. Despite being divided into four distinct houses, our hearts beat as one and we proudly call ourselves the ‘Johnians!’

MAKING A MARK

Investiture Ceremony

Walking on stage and being invested as a captain is considered one of the greatest honours you can achieve during your school life. This year's investiture ceremony was nothing less than a show of discipline, determination, and the drive to succeed. Daksh Tanwar, our outgoing school captain, passed the school flag to our new school captain-elect, Joshaan Singh Sidhu, placing the responsibility of upholding the school's legacy upon his shoulders, just as it was once placed on his own.

Uchit Soni, our newly elected school sports captain, demonstrated exceptional marching skill, and we spotted a glint in his eye that hinted at an undying passion and fire. The school vice-captain and the sports vice-captain, Aarav Kumar Saini and Angelo Enrique Francis, respectively, proved that youth is not a burden but an asset when taking on leadership roles. In addition, each house has been appointed a single house captain, one house vice-captain, and two assistant captains, with duties divided to ensure discipline and respect.

To conclude the event, the newly appointed school editors and photographers for the 2025–26 session were invested and congratulated. The faces of the parents shone with pride as they saw their children invested as members of the St. John's Student Council. It truly was an event worth documenting.

NCC Camp
2025-26

Date: July 5, 2025
Location: PGGC-11 College, Chandigarh

Dear Diary,

At the end of June 2025, we left for our much-awaited 10-day NCC camp as second-year cadets. Excitement and nervousness filled our hearts as we carried blankets, mattresses, heaps of clothes, and all our personal essentials. The camp was held at PGGC-11 College in Chandigarh, where the boys and girls were allotted separate hostel rooms, and SD cadets had their own quarters. Our camp head, Mr. Aditya, welcomed us warmly, and we were proudly assigned to Delta Company. Throughout the camp, our ANO, Mr. Jarnail Singh Waraich, supported and guided us in every situation, making even the toughest challenges feel manageable.

Life at camp quickly settled into a strict but rewarding routine. Waking up at 6:00 a.m. for rigorous exercises was challenging, but the energy of the group kept us motivated. After breakfast, we attended classes until noon. Afternoons gave us free time, which we used to relax, bond, and share stories with our new friends. At 5:00 p.m., we participated in the sports meet, featuring events like tug of war, the 400m relay, and the two-leg race, which tested our endurance and teamwork. Meals were plentiful and well-prepared, catering to both vegetarians and non-vegetarians.

One of the most memorable parts was that we didn't have our phones, which gave us a rare chance to connect with nature, observe our surroundings, and truly enjoy the moment. Another highlight for me was representing our school in folk dance, Bhangra, which was thrilling and a proud experience. Living in hostels, managing our chores, and being away from parents made us realize the value of responsibility and independence.

After 10 eventful days, we finally returned home on July 5. The NCC camp was truly a once-in-a-lifetime experience—a perfect blend of discipline, adventure, personal growth, fun, and unforgettable memories.

National Service Scheme (NSS)

As part of our school's social service and community outreach programme, a series of meaningful activities were conducted over several days to promote social responsibility, cleanliness, and awareness about the importance of saving and educating the girl child.

On the first day, students created colourful and informative posters on the theme "Save and Educate the Girl Child." These posters highlighted the importance of gender equality, education for girls, and the role of society in empowering them. The activity helped students express their thoughts creatively while spreading a strong social message.

The next day, we visited Nada Sahib Gurudwara, where we actively participated in langar sewa. Students chopped vegetables, washed utensils, and assisted in cleaning, learning the values of selfless service, humility, and teamwork.

On the following day, we went to the Sai Baba Temple, where we helped in community kitchen activities. We chopped vegetables, prepared rotis, cleaned utensils, and maintained cleanliness, which strengthened our sense of discipline and service.

Later, we visited Patel Nagar village, where we cleaned the streets and surroundings. We also donated sanitary pads, soaps, and books to the needy. This activity made us aware of hygiene issues and the importance of helping underprivileged communities.

The next visit to the same village focused on interaction and encouragement. We served the children chai, bread, and pakoras and motivated them to draw whatever they liked. Along with fun activities, we again spread awareness about saving and educating the girl child using our posters. The children enjoyed the interaction and participated enthusiastically.

On the final day, a cleanliness drive was conducted in our school. A bhelpuri and sandwich-making competition was also organized, and the prepared food was distributed among the helping staff of the school.

Overall, these activities were enriching and taught us compassion, social responsibility, and the joy of serving others.

THE  MUSICAL

2025-26

Smike is a musical, based on Nicholas Nickelby following a kind young boy who rescues mistreated orphan Smike, exposing cruelty, fighting injustice and finds hope, family and freedom.

Info

The school auditorium resonated with applause as Smike: The Opera, a stirring musical adaptation of Charles Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby, unfolded on stage.

The production opened in a modern-day school under a rigid headmaster before powerfully transitioning to the harsh educational system of early nineteenth-century London. This contrast was both striking and thought-provoking. The choir delivered a spellbinding performance, enriching the narrative with emotional depth and precision. Every character's exceptional performance added intensity, depth and humour to the entire show. The presence of visiting schools—Sacred Heart, St. Kabir and St. Stephen's—enhanced the grandeur of the event. Beyond its theatrical brilliance, the opera conveyed a strong message of compassion, justice and the responsibility of educators, leaving the audience deeply moved and reflective.

The Making of Smike

The making of Smike resonated with shared passion and dedication. Every contributor infused energy, artistry and commitment elevating the production into a graceful and memorable theatrical experience.

Japan:

An Educational Tour

My trip to Japan was an unforgettable experience filled with learning, adventure, and culture. We began our journey from India and our flight landed in Tokyo, where we explored the Odaiba District and admired the breathtaking view from the Tokyo Sky Tree. The next day, we visited the historic Sensoji Temple, the famous Nakamise Street, and the National Museum, which gave us exposure to Japan's rich heritage. We also had other fun experiences like visiting the Dome Theatre and Diver City.

Our visit to Mount Fuji was one of the most memorable parts of the trip. We went up to the 5th Station, enjoyed the scenic Ropeway, and took a beautiful cruise on Lake Ashi before taking the Shinkansen (bullet train) back to Tokyo. Then, in Hiroshima, we visited the Peace Memorial Park and the Sadako Sasaki Monument which was deeply emotional and educational.

In Osaka, we had a wonderful school exchange program and explored the Dotonbori shopping streets. My favourite highlight of the trip was when we spent an entire day at Universal Studios, enjoying thrilling rides and events. Finally, in Kyoto, we visited the Golden Pavilion after which we joined a Samurai and Ninja workshop, and took part in a traditional tea ceremony.

Japan truly left me inspired and grateful for this incredible experience.

Goa:
An educational trip

My trip to Goa was an exciting and refreshing experience that I'll always remember. From the moment I arrived, the lively atmosphere and colourful streets caught my attention. I explored old churches and forts, learning about Goa's rich history and unique culture. Walking through local markets was a highlight, with music, handmade crafts and delicious food everywhere. I enjoyed trying new dishes and talking to friendly locals. Evenings were peaceful, filled with laughter and good company. The entire trip felt like a perfect mix of fun, discovery and relaxation, leaving me with unforgettable memories and a strong wish to visit it again.

Ranthambore: An educational excursion

My Trip to Ranthambore was full of excitement. The major sight of interest was the well-known Ranthambore Tiger Reserve. Our school arranged for us a jungle safari wherein we could see various animals such as deer, peacocks, monkeys and crocodiles. The best part of our tour was seeing the majestic tigers in the forest. Another historical sight we saw was the Ranthambore Fort and we were told much about its history. The whole journey proved to be interesting and educational for us. Hanging out with my friends made the experience all the more enjoyable.

Jim Corbett: An educational excursion

The school had arranged an adventurous visit to Jim Corbett National Park for us. With its picturesque surroundings of forests and hills, the park was a perfect destination for us. We experienced a jungle safari where we could see several kinds of wild animals like elephants, deers, monkeys, and different varieties of birds. We were eager to spot the legendary Bengal Tiger too. It was a thrilling activity which gave us a chance to study the life of these wild animals in their natural surroundings. We realized the significance of preserving the animals and forests through this trip. We enjoyed the trip with our schoolmates very much.

Jaipur Trip

Stepping into Jaipur in March last year felt like walking directly into a vibrant, living postcard. There was a specific kind of magic in the air-the perfect "sweet spot" of where the sun felt warm on your skin, but the breeze kept things comfortable as you explored. Since it was a school trip, the experience wasn't just about the monuments; it was filled with the chaotic energy of travelling with friends, the endless stream of snacks on the bus and the rare, relaxed conversations with teachers that made everything feel more personal.

The Trek of a Lifetime

The annual overnight trip for outgoing Class 12 students is one of the most anticipated events of the school year.

For the 2026–27 batch, the destination was Peach Valley in Rajgarh, near Solan—a resort known for its scenic landscapes and adventure camp.

This journey holds deep meaning for the boys, marking the culmination of their school life. It gives them a chance to relive years of shared memories and bond with friends before embarking on their chosen but diverse paths.

Scheduled in November, just weeks before the pre-board exams, the trip is considered as a last breath of freedom. The students are well aware of the intense study schedule waiting for them upon their return, which only heightens their enthusiasm.

Driven by this awareness, they make every second count. During these 48hours, the boys immerse themselves in adventure activities, late-night conversations, and pure fun. The trip strikes a perfect balance between nostalgia and celebration, allowing the batch to create lifelong memories together before diving into their final academic push.

The boys are accompanied by their class teachers. Who have been a witness to their senior secondary years in school and have observed them ride storms of difficulties, confusion, uncertainty and pressure. They have held their hand and guided them with hope and faith in the students abilities to achieve all that they aspire for.

From Code to Creation

The new Robotics Lab is one of the best Labs in the school. The wallpaper and robots make the whole room feel attractive and futuristic. The smart screen is very bold and modern and is an interesting way of replacing our old smart boards. The Projects we make are helping students advance and be up-to-date with all of the latest technology required for our age group. It is teaching all of the students that phones and laptops can be used for so much more than just watching YouTube or scrolling through Instagram. It keeps students interested in learning through practical projects and bonus ideas that makes us technologically enlightened.

Mind

GIFT OF GOD

The presence of nature is such a charm,
Why should we cause it any more harm?
Amidst the pollution, fumes and smoke,
It's starting to make me cough and choke.

As custodians of nature's priceless gifts, it's our duty,
To preserve and protect its natural beauty.
Let's save our planet, the time is never too late,
Or we ourselves will seal our fate.

Pick up the trash and throw it in the bin,
In the end cleanliness will win!
Plant a tree in the earth's core,
Make it like it was once before!

Crossroads

I want to be free
to fly,to see,
to feel wind
of places I haven't been to explore,to stumble
to learn who I could be

Still I ache for home
for comfort and Safety
for voices that know me
and hands that hold mine

The soft familiarity such full of warmth and love
So even the world may seem small
But it always seem enough

But comfort asks to be challenged
Intimidation meant to be faced
Loneliness is part of life
Why is that…..
No matter what the place

This inner conflict
Guilt tangled with love
Freedom knotted with growth
Oh who am I to do
When all I feel is the world waits for me to change it
But heart won't let me go ?

Balance

A lesson learnt by me, through my struggle and strife,

For men, I think in the course of life,

That truth with pain is the better way,

Than comfort's lie that leads far away.

A choice that hurts, but still stands upright,

Is better than warmth that hides the dark night.

But women, they're surely different of a kind,

With a heart and soul more interwined.

They seek a truth the heart can handle,

A gentle word, a bright candle.

A choice that soothes, thoughts which are kind,

A soothing for both the heart and mind.

For men need truth, though as harsh as it sound,

While women seek where feelings are found.

But nothing wrong with this, don't get me unright,

As balance strives in dark and light.

It's how the world keeps love alive,

How yin and yang together thrive.

The mind holds reason, the heart holds grace,

Each one holds the other ones place.

As truth without love turns cold and little,

And love without truth may be become brittle.

So where both meet, is where wisdom starts.

As only when the two unite,

Do the minds find peace, and the hearts find light.

The Moment We Choose... ‘Believe’

There is a moment most students recognise, even if we never talk about it. It happens in the middle of an exam, when panic quietly replaces confidence. You don’t look at the textbook you studied from but you look at a friend. One friend. And whatever answer they give, you accept it without question.

What’s strange is not the act itself, but the trust behind it. In that moment, we are fully aware of the risk. We know that if the answer is wrong, the consequences are ours to face. Yet we choose belief over doubt. Not because the answer is guaranteed to be correct, but because the person giving it feels reliable. That kind of trust is rarely discussed. It isn’t built on logic or proof, it is built on comfort. It comes from shared benches, jokes and the quiet belief that someone else understands what we are going through.

As we grow older, this instinct slowly fades. We begin to verify, question, and rely more on ourselves. Trust becomes cautious, calculated and sometimes reluctant. Perhaps this is growth. Or it is the cost of experience. Still, that unquestioned trust teaches us something important. It reminds us that before fear of failure took over, we believed in people more than outcomes. And sometimes, the lesson stays longer than the answer ever did.

The Power Of Consistency

In a world full of distractions, competition, and fast-changing priorities, many people start tasks with excitement but stop halfway. The difference between those who only dream and those who truly achieve their goals lies in one simple habit — consistency.

Consistency means showing up every day, even when motivation fades. Motivation helps us begin, but consistency helps us continue. Small, repeated efforts create stronger and long-lasting results compared to big efforts done only once in a while. Whether it is studying, exercising, learning a new skill, or developing a habit — real improvement happens when effort becomes a routine.

History and life both prove this. Athletes become champions not by practicing once, but by practicing every day. Scientists achieve discoveries after years of continuous research. Even nature shows us this principle — water shapes mountains not through strength, but through steady flow.

In our personal lives, consistency builds discipline, confidence, and success. We do not need to be perfect every day — we only need to be better than yesterday. Even when things feel difficult, doing just a little keeps us moving forward.

Success is not about doing everything at once; it is about doing something every

A JOURNEY TO THE ANDAMANS: A WISH PERSONIFIED

It was a cold day of December 25,2023, exactly one year ago. After the Christmas evening of celebrations, I sat on the bed, two hefty mink blankets covering me like a shield, reading a book. Just when I turned on to Page 72, my parents decided to break the news among all of us- We were going to the Andaman and Nicobar Islands! I was thrilled, my heart beating thirty times faster than before! I could not believe my ears! – My dream came into reality at last!

We did all the planning and on the 31st of December 2023, the last day of the year at 8:00 pm, we set off to the journey of Andaman and Nicobar Islands. Our route was long but easy- ISBT-17 Chandigarh to IGI Airport, New Delhi. And then we took two connecting flights to Kolkata and then to Port Blair, the capital of the Islands. We landed on Veer Savarkar International Airport, which is the only airport in the islands, on 1st January, 2024, at 11:35 am. We then rested for a while in the Mansha Palace, a renowned hotel in the region. In the evening, we went to the Cellular Jail, the most important place in the capital. It gave me a sense of pain for the martyred fighters, and a sense of pride for those who made the nation proud. We could not attend the light show as it was booked for us on the 5th of January. The next day, we went to Havelock Islands, the hub for water sports, by ferry. Again, we rested at an hotel and in the evening, went to the picturesque Radha Nagar Beach, where I had the best bath ever! The water was so clean, and the scene was beautiful. The next day, we went to the Elephanta Beach, the real hub for water sports. We had a lot of fun jet skiing, scuba diving, and more. We also met tribes, who seemed to be dangerous at first, but actually were very friendly.

Our next stop was Neil Island, again by ferry. In this trip, I also met our very own Gurpreet Ma'am! What a coincidence! Well, I was able to properly meet her in the hotel. We were allotted two rooms as usual, but I am specifically describing about this hotel as it was the worst of all. There was no sanitation, and the washrooms were the worst of all. Now, hotels apart, we went to Laxmanpur Beach No.1, the rocky beach. Now, personally, I didn't like the beach myself, especially when I injured my arm in the process of going down. The next day, we went to Bharatpur Beach, a great beach indeed, and spent a good amount of time bathing and watching the serene environment. That evening, we arrived back to Port Blair. At arriving, we received a news that the light show was cancelled due to technical problems. But we were so tired that we could hardly react on this news.

The next day, it was our time to return to our City Beautiful on 6th of January. We took the connecting flights from Port Blair to Chennai and then from Chennai to Delhi. We also took flight from Delhi back to Chandigarh. During this very flight, I didn't notice that Shubhman Gill was in our flight! I was really exited to meet him and when I met, my dream came true! We also came to know that I and him share the same hometown- Fazilka! We took a lot of photos and he even signed autographs on my and my brother's t-shirt, always soft-spoken and a really down-to-earth person. When our chauffeur came to pick up us from the airport, in my heart, I felt a sense of ultimate satisfaction. I said to myself, 'What a beautiful week! 'I also fulfilled my two wishes- first: to go to the Andaman and Nicobar Islands; and secondly, meeting a cricket star. This wonderful starting of the year will always be remained etched in my and my family's hearts.

Moving Forward

When the fears of defeat strangle our hopes, when our own self questions our goals, that's the time when one's entire life is forged by one choice, to let go or to move forward.

Rome wasn't built in a day, but the entire American economy crashed in an hour. Japan was in flames during 1945. Who would've thought that these lost countries would be the peak of human civilization today? Yes! The ones who acted on it.

There are 8 billion people in the world, yet only 10 million stand successful. Because all the rest kept thinking, planning and delaying. But the ones who started are today's role models. Be it David Goggins, be it Elon Musk, be it you, we're all humars. But what makes us better than human, better than 7.09 billion people is to act right now.

Be it anyone in your way, may the world be ahead of you, remember that consistency and practice are the only things you need to enact now to become the greatest human to walk the Earth. And whatever may happen, you'll enact the values of a Johnian and Never Give Up, and you will win for all those whom you love, or hate. This is my motto, this is how empires are built. Every Morning tell yourself, Today I choose to Rise, not Fall. Today, I choose to Dominate, not Survive. Today, I choose to Succeed, not Fail. Today is the day I choose to Live, not Die.

One evening, I was walking down a road with big bushes on either side. I saw something that I was not supposed to see. A man was riding his bike when he stopped all of a sudden. It was as if the road itself was stopping him. I heard voices coming from the dark. They were quiet and sounded worried. I did not recognise them. Then everything became completely silent. It was frightening. I was hiding behind the bushes, so nobody saw me. I felt guilty because I had seen something I was not meant to see, and I did not tell anyone. The man on the bike never came back to that road. I still remember the voices and the silence that followed. It was a strange and terrifying thing to witness.

The next morning, the man was gone, but his bike was still there, standing upright all by itself. People from the village came to see what was going on. They tried to move the bike, but they could not. Some of them said it felt as though something was stopping them, as if the bike did not want to be moved. Others were too scared to even try; they said the bike would not let them touch it. However, when I reached out and touched the man's bike, nothing happened to me. I was able to touch it without any problem. The cold metal rested firmly under my hand. It felt as though the metal knew me, as though it knew I was the one who understood what had truly happened that night.

Soon, people started talking about the bike having a strange power. This power did not come from the bike itself, but from the memories it held. It was believed that the bike carried the final moments of its rider within it. People thought the bike refused to be touched by anyone who did not know the truth of what had happened. As time passed, fear slowly turned into respect. The place where the bike was found, once avoided by everyone, gradually became a place where people came to sit in silence and reflect.

A small platform was built there, and later, a statue was placed beside it. The place began to mean different things to different people. Some thought of it as a temple, while others believed it was a memorial meant to honour the bike and its rider.

The bike is still there today, unmoved. It feels as though it is guarding the story, unwilling to let it be forgotten. I have never tried to ride the bike, because some things are meant to remain where they are—to remind us of the past, rather than be used and moved around like an ordinary machine.

If a place remembered a truth no one wanted to face, would you try to forget it, or would you choose to honour it?

होली

रंगों का त्योहार है होली,
खुशियों की बौछार है होली।
लाल, गुलाबी, पीला, नीला,
हर चेहरा आज लगे रंगीला।

पिचकारी में भरा है पानी,
हँसते बच्चे, खुशियाँ मानी।
ढोल बजें और गीत सुनाएँ,
सब मिलकर खुशियाँ मनाएँ।

मीठी गुझिया, हँसी ठिठोली,
हर गली में आई होली।
रूठे दिल भी पास आ जाए

प्रकृति –
एक ऐसी शाम जिसे मैं भूल नहीं सकता

मुझे वह शाम आज भी याद है। शायद इसलिए क्योंकि वह बहुत साधारण थी, लेकिन मेरे लिए खास बन गई। मैं दादा-दादी के गाँव गया हुआ था। वहाँ का माहौल शहर से बिल्कुल अलग होता है। शांति भी होती है और एक सुकून-सा भी महसूस होता है।

शाम के समय मैं खेतों की तरफ चला गया था। ठंडी हवा चल रही थी। वह हवा जब चेहरे से टकराती, तो बहुत अच्छा लगता था। सूरज धीरे-धीरे ढल रहा था। उसका रंग पूरा नारंगी हो गया था, और आसमान भी वैसा ही दिख रहा था। मैं कुछ देर तक बस उसे देखता ही रहा।

पास में पक्षियाँ अपने घोंसलों की तरफ लौट रही थीं। दूर से बच्चों के खेलने की आवाज़ आ रही थी। मिट्टी की हल्की-सी खुशबू भी महसूस हो रही थी। उस समय मुझे लगा कि गाँव की जिंदगी कितनी शांत और सुंदर होती है। शहर में हम शायद ऐसे पल महसूस ही नहीं कर पाते।

मैंने उस शाम कुछ खास नहीं किया था। बस खड़ा था, देख रहा था और सोच रहा था। लेकिन पता नहीं क्यों, वह समय मेरे मन में रह गया। आज भी जब मैं उसे याद करता हूँ, तो मन अपने आप शांत हो जाता है।

आशा है कि आपको मेरा लेख पसंद आएगा और इसे विद्यालय पत्रिका में स्थान देने योग्य समझेंगे।

रील्स:अवसर या आफत

आजकल का दौर रील्स का है। इन छोटी 15 से 30 सेकंड की वीडियो में दुनिया भर का मनोरंजन मिल जाता है। गानों से लेकर प्रेरणा और शिक्षा भी मिल जाती है। इन रील्स को देखने और लोगों को रील बनाते देख, दूसरों का मन भी रील बनाने का कर जाता है। कुछ लोग अपनी पढ़ाई छोड़कर रील बनाने लग जाते हैं।

इनमें से कुछ लोग रील्स का इस्तेमाल अच्छी वजह से करते हैं, जैसे कि शिक्षा देना। लेकिन कुछ लोगों को सिर्फ लाइक्स और व्यूज से फर्क पड़ता है। वे कुछ बेवकूफी के काम रिकॉर्ड करके डाल देते हैं। कोई भीड़ में जाकर नाचने लग जाता है, तो कोई मेट्रो में लोगों के साथ अभद्र व्यवहार करने लग जाता है। एक युवक रील बनाने के लिए चलती गाड़ी पर खड़ा हो गया और गाड़ी को पुलिस के बैरिकेड में ठोक दिया। उसने लाइक्स के चक्कर में अपनी जान गँवा दी। आजकल लोगों को लगने लगा है कि पूरी दुनिया उनका प्राइवेट स्टेज हो। सच तो यह है कि रील्स एक नशा है जिससे बचना आजकल असंभव है। रील बनाना बुरा नहीं है, लेकिन इसके लिए कुछ सीमाओं का होना ज़रूरी है। जैसे कि रील्स मर्यादित हों और उनमें ओछापन न हो। अच्छी रील्स हमें एक ऐसा मंच प्रदान करती हैं जिससे हमें सीखने और सिखाने का ज़रिया मिलता है।

इसमें कोई शक नहीं है कि रील्स मनोरंजन का उत्तम साधन हैं। सारी बात यहाँ खत्म होती है कि हम इसका सदुपयोग कर रहे हैं या दुरुपयोग। सदुपयोग से हम नई ऊंचाइयों को छू सकते हैं, जबकि दुरुपयोग से...

मैं जब पहली बार बाजार गया

रविवार की बात है। मैं बहुत खुश था, क्योंकि मैं पहली बार बाज़ार जाने वाला था। जैसे ही मैं बाज़ार पहुँचा, मेरी आँखें चमक उठीं। मैं खिलौने की दुकान में गया। मेरे कदम वहीं रुक गए। गुब्बारे हवा में नाच रहे थे। दुकानदार ज़ोर से आवाज़ लगाते और लोग हँसते, बोलते तथा सब्जियाँ, फल खरीदते दिखाई दे रहे थे। मुझे मिठाइयों की खुशबू भी अपनी ओर खींच रही थी। मैंने पहली बार खुद पैसे देकर एक खिलौना खरीदा। मुझे गर्व महसूस हुआ। मैं जब घर लौटा मेरे हाथ में खिलौना था और मेरे दिल में ढेर सारी खुशियाँ। मेरा पहली बार बाजार जाना एक यादगार अनुभव बन गया।

प्राइमरी स्कूल में मेरा अनुभव

प्राइमरी स्कूल में मेरा अनुभव यादगार और बहुत अच्छा था। प्राइमरी स्कूल के दिन मेरे जीवन के सुनहरे पलों में से एक हैं। कक्षा में साथ मिलकर पढ़ना तथा ब्रेक में दोस्तों के साथ टिफिन बाँटना और मैदान में खेलना मुझे बहुत याद आएगा। मेरे शिक्षकों ने केवल विषयों का ज्ञान ही नहीं दिया, बल्कि सही और गलत के बीच का अंतर भी समझाया।

कई शिक्षक स्नेही थे, जिन्होंने मुझे पढ़ाई के साथ-साथ नैतिक शिक्षा भी दी। मैंने प्राइमरी स्कूल में समझा कि कड़ी मेहनत करने से सफलता मिलती है। शिक्षक बहुत प्यारे थे, जो हिंदी, गणित और अन्य विषय पढ़ाते थे। दोस्तों के साथ बिताए पल, जैसे पिकनिक पर जाना, साथ में मिलकर रचनात्मक गतिविधियाँ करना, छोटी-छोटी खुशियाँ मेरे मन को आनंद पहुँचाती हैं। यहाँ मैंने शिक्षकों से अनुशासन में रहना सीखा, समय का सदुपयोग मैंने यहाँ शिक्षकों से सीखा जो मेरे लिए भविष्य में भी उपयोगी होगा।
