INDEPENDENCE

DAY

Independence Day

India is our country. She is very beautiful. We have a tri-coloured Flag. The colours are saffron on the top, Green at the bottom and White in the middle which has a blue chakra on it. The Chakra stands for unity. The Father of our nation - Mahatma Gandhi gave us this Flag on 15th August 1947. Every year we celebrate this great day.

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was born at Porbander on October 2nd 1869. His father, Karamchand was a Dewan to the Raja of Porbander but he was not at all rich.

Mohandas had a simple education. He was a gentle boy and worked hard at his lessons. Although he was not very intelligent he was good and obedient. After passing his matriculation examination he went to England and studied law for three years. He returned to India to practice as a lawyer, first at Bombay and then at Rajkot. Two years later he went to South Africa on behalf of a big Indian business house to conduct a suit against another firm, a national of South Africa.

In a short period he experienced the unpleasant behaviour of the Dutch and the British people there, towards Indians and Africans. Non Europeans had no rights in South Africa and they were often treated with great rudeness and injustice. This made Gandhiji very angry and after the case was over he stayed on in Natal to help the Indians in the struggle for justice. He founded the Indian National Congress in 1894.

Gandhiji started Satyagraha or passive resistance on his return to India. He began to fight for freedom in this manner. He founded an Ashram in Ahmedabad and began to train men in his methods. Soon the Satyagraha movement in India, under the leadership of Gandhiji, spread like wild fire.

India was headed by Gandhiji for a number of years. On 15th August 1947, India got Independence after much bloodshed, hatred and bitterness.

Gandhiji was shot and killed by one of his greatest enemies Nathu Ram Godse on January 30th 1948. His body was cremated at a place near the banks of the river Yamuna in Delhi, which is now known as Rajghat.

Bhagat Singh

Among the brave men who opposed and fought against the Britishers, the name Bhagat Singh stands out singularly. He came from a family of staunch nationalists and he kept the torch burning.

Bhagat Singh was born in 1907 in a village called Banga, in Layallpur, District of Punjab. His father Kishan Singh was at that time in jail. Ajit Singh, his uncle, was released from jail in Burma the day he was born.

Bhagat Singh had accompanied his father to Lahore when he was a child of about five years of age. There someone asked him jokingly as to what he did. The child proudly replied, "Sir, I deal in guns."

Bhagat Singh joined Mahatma Gandhi's movement, but soon left as people in many places became violent.

The situation in the country was going from bad to worse each day. The British rulers became worried and set up a Commission to make an on the spot study of the situation.

Bhagat Singh left his house in 1923, when there was a talk of his marriage. He wanted to remain single and free so as to serve his country. So he slipped off to Delhi and joined the staff of the "Arjun", a nationalist paper. Soon after he left for Kanpur, where he met another well known nationalist.

Bhagat Singh, Sukhdev and Raj Guru went to look for police officers. They saw surrenderers coming out of the office.

Bhagat Singh and his associates were sentenced to death. They were to be hanged on 24th March 1931. But the Britishers quietly hanged Bhagat, Raj Guru, Sukhdev a day before, on 23rd March 1931.

The cruel British Rule is no more but the memory of those who died for us remains ever fresh. -- Ranachai IV A

Houses

A bird house is a house for a hen,
And sheep live in a pen.
The nest is a home for the raven,
And the angels live in heaven.
And perhaps a hole will do for a mouse,
But for me I need a house.

A Poem on Gandhiji

I know a man all through and through,
You must be wondering, it can be who!
He loves us all men and women,
And mostly the children.

He came in my dream
And shone like a sunbeam.
He loves the nation,
Just as a kitten would love cream.
I'll tell you who it is,
He always smiles at us children!
From above in Heaven.
And he seemed as glad as a raven;
When he calls me to him I run.

He blessed me and said "Get up from your bed".
"For dawn has arrived." I got up and said,
"What a wonderful dream I had of Gandhiji,"
Gandhiji loves you and me!

Oh, my dear, Test,
Let me have some rest,
See, it is no jest,
You are an unwanted guest,
I don't know what to do,
I am afraid of you,
And so is everybody who,
Wants to get through.
You are always there,
In August and October,
Tell me how to prepare,
To read and remember.

Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru

Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru was one of the greatest leaders of the world. He was one of the leading politicians also. He was one of the few freedom fighters who suffered much for India's freedom. In many ways he was the maker of modern India.

He was born at Allahabad on November 14th 1889 in a rich Kashmiri family. His father Pandit Moti Lal Nehru was a great lawyer and a great freedom fighter too. Nehru was taught at home by British teachers. Later on he was sent to England to study in an English school. After completing his education he returned to India as a barrister. He began to work as a lawyer at Allahabad High Court, but he was not interested in this profession, as he had a great desire to see India free. In 1916 he was married to Kamla Kaul who died on February 29th 1936.

Those were the days when Gandhiji returned from South Africa. Drawn by the magic of Gandhiji, young Jawahar jumped into politics, and was sent to jail a number of times. The hardness of his character and his determination to succeed were the result of his imprisonment.

When India attained Independence he became the first Prime Minister of free India. He was the man who raised India in the eyes of the world. He formed the Non-Aligned organization for peace and to bring newly independent countries together.

Nehru laid the firm foundation for democracy. All his life he worked to bring a lasting peace in the world. He was a Hindu by birth, an Englishman by education and a revolutionary by training. He was a great orator and a great writer. He was the author of many books known all over the world.

He had a great love for children to whom he was known as "Chacha." As a mark of his love for children, his birthday is celebrated as 'Children's Day.'

Nehru died on May 27th 1964. His death was a big shock. He worked for international peace and unity. Nehru is dead, 'Long live Nehru!'

Children's Day

We had a great Prime Minister,
Who made our country great.
His birthday the 14th of November,
As Children's Day we celebrate.
Let's pay homage to Chacha Nehru,
And for lots of sweets let's wait.

-- Anurag Negi - II B

Gandhiji

"I hope you know who he is!"
The freedom given to us is his,
He loved the poor,
Of that I'm sure,
Whom he blessed was cured.
When I think of him,
I don't feel bored.
Love for millions he scored,
He sits by the right hand of God.
I think of him as he came from heaven.
Gandhiji is so loving.

-- Nitesh

Subhash Chandra Bose

A leader is a person who fights for the country like Gandhiji, Nehruji and Subhash Chandra Bose did.

Subhash Chandra Bose was born on January 23, 1897. He belonged to a wealthy family of Bengal. Subhash was brave and very intelligent. He went to England and passed the I.C.S. Examination being fourth in the rank. Subhash returned to India with a good position, but he was not happy seeing the poverty of his country. Therefore in the year 1921 he joined the I.N.C. He was elected president of the Congress twice and was called Netaji. Subhash left his country and went to Germany. He reached Burma in 1943 and organized the "Azad Hind Fauj" (Indian National Army). He wanted his army to drive the British out of India. Subhash died in 1945 in a plane crash in Formosa.

Subhash Chandra Bose lived up to his motto -
"You give me blood, I will give you freedom."

Our Excursion to F. R. I.

At first, early in the morning we started our journey at 8.35 a.m. from Mussoorie to Dehradun in the bus. We were very happy about it and were reading books, singing and enjoying ourselves. In between we stopped at Malsi Deer Park. It took us two hours thirty five minutes to reach Dehradun. It was 10.35 a.m.

After that we reached the F.R.I. which was first a British office. It was very big but now it has become the Forest Research Institute's Museum. After reaching there we had some patties and Campa Cola. After that we decided to go to the museum. When we entered the first museum room we saw many pictures of forests, deserts, villages, railway tracks with trees all around. Then Mr. Kukreja came and started to explain to us about the forests. He told us that the forests are very useful to us in many ways. He showed us a picture of a village with no trees and with no canals filled with water and the other was full of trees and cement houses, canals filled with water. This shows us if we don't cut down the forests, we can live properly, we can travel comfortably and we can farm properly. If there are no trees the place is very hot, very uncomfortable, it looks like a desert, there are floods, there is soil erosion. If we have trees we will have employment, we will get bamboos, we will get silk, cotton and many useful things. After that we went to the Silriculture museum. We saw a show case with mountains but with no trees and crops were starving with no rain at all. In another show case we saw a Deodar forest illustration and the clear felling system, Sal forest illustrating coppice with standards. Then we saw the things that are made of wood. After that we saw a plastic bottle filled with an amount of water present in a cubic metre of Green wood (avg. 16 litres) and beside it we saw another amount of water left in cubic metre seasoned wood (avg. 2.7 litres). Then we saw a large peice of wood circular in shape, which shows the age of the tree by counting the rings on that wood. We also saw a specimen wheel from gun carriage factory Jabalpure.

After that we went to another musuem called Minor Museum where we saw the specimens of different types of wood and one of them was the wood tools used for Resin tapping by Rull Method. Another was a Burmese musical instrument. After that we saw thick and thin, broad and narrow bamboo sticks made out of tree wood. We also saw elephant's tusks. Right tusk was 143 cms long, girth 41 cms, Wt. 19.8 kgs. The left tusk was 137 cms long, girth 35 cms, Wt. 10.4 kgs. It was brought from Tamil Nadu. We even saw tree trunks. Then we went to the Entomological Musuem, where animals' heads and their bodies were kept. Then we saw different butterflies and insects. We saw a termite hill and a picture of their life cycle and how they damage the woods.

After that we went out of the musuem and walked to the Deer park. There we saw deer with their beautiful horns. Some were eating, some were running and some were just walking around. We even gave them some grass to eat but Miss Dolma told us not to feed them as they would get sick. One black cloud on our shining horizon of happiness was that lunch of ours was very late. Sister had told some men to bring our lunch at one o'clock but by two o'clock no lunch had arrived and we were very hungry. There was a big mixup about the lunch and by the time it arrived it was already three o'clock. So to kill time we played games. After that we went to fill our water bottles. Then we had our lunch, we got rice, chola, and mutter paneer. After that we got Thumps Up and some fruits. Later we went to see the Plants Introduction Nursery which was nearby. All the plants were kept in packets as they were for sale.

After that we went to sit in the bus. After sometime the bus started, and stopped when we reached the Musuem door and we had some cold drinks. We were enjoying ourselves very much and we were playing cards etc. In the bus Miss Shiva gave us some sweets to eat. After two hours we reached Mussoorie and we took out our things and got down from the bus. It was a very enjoyable picnic.

This was our last picnic of class V at Hampton Court, in October 1988. It was now 6.30 p.m. We went to our school dining room and had our dinner.

QUESTION: Why did a Robot tiptoe past a medicine chest?

ANSWER: He did not want to wake the sleeping pills.

The Solar System

The solar system is made up of nine planets with the sun in the centre. The term planets is derived from the Greek word "planets", meaning wanderers. The solar system is tucked away in a corner of the Milky Way at a distance of about 30,000 to 33,000 light years from the centre of the galaxy.

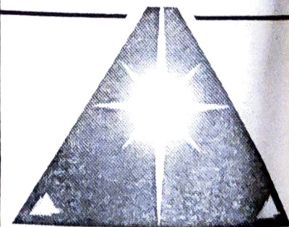

The Moon:

The moon is the only satellite of the earth. Again it is the only satellite in the solar system far too big to be called a satellite. All other satellites have sizes below 1/8th the size of their mother planets. But the moon is about 1/4th the size of its mother planet, the earth.

The Earth:

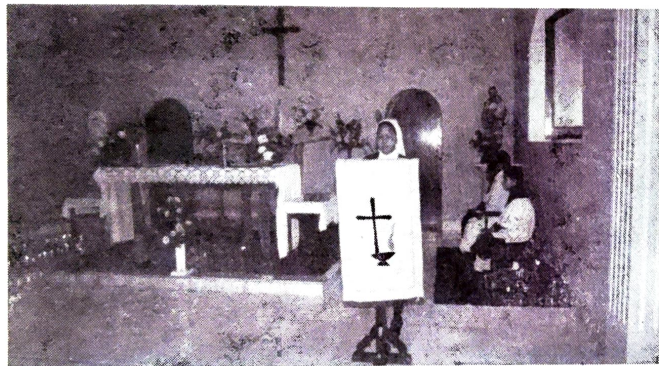

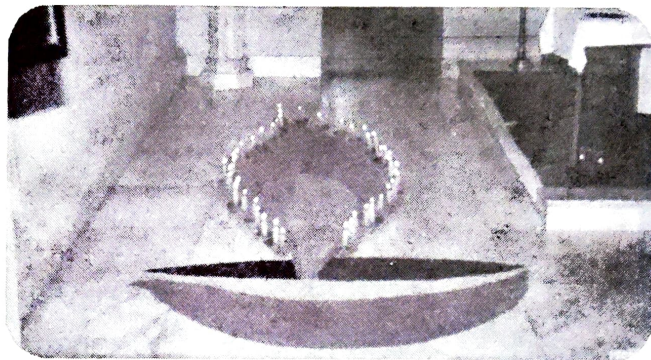

It is the only planet which has life on it. It is also called a watery planet because 75% of the earth's surface is covered with water. It takes 365 1/4 days to go round the sun once. It has only one satellite - the Moon.

COMPUTERS

Do you like Computers? I love them. Computers are our friends and they help us in all our work.

The year before last when I came to school after my winter break, some of my friends told me that next year Sr. Ida was getting a Computer for us. As I didn't know what a Computer was, I kept wondering how a Computer looked like.

The next year when I was coming to school after my holidays, I suddenly remembered that this year I would see a Computer. A few days after reaching school, we had our first Computer class. I ran all the way and was the first to reach the Computer Room. On the door was a chart and on it was written - "Do not enter the Computer Room with dirty hands."

The Computer Miss examined our hands and on finding them dirty, told the whole class to first go and wash their hands and then come again. When we went back again, Miss made five boys sit around each computer. This was the first time I was seeing a Computer and I was struck with amazement. I asked Miss how it was possible for us to sum on a T.V. Then she explained that the T.V. screen was actually a Monitor and the thing that looked like a typewriter was a keyboard. Then we learnt all about the different parts of a Computer which were: Monitor, keys, keyboard, screen, space bar, wire and Computer. From that day onwards I started to love Computers.

-- Anand Paul V A.

What is a Computer?

A Computer is an electronic device which stores information (data) on diskettes or magnetic tapes, analyses it, and produces further information as required.

Computer was invented by Charles Babbage as a very useful and needful device. Computers are used all over the world. Their usefulness is to help the doctors to cure sick people and make new medicines, to help the policemen to detect a criminal through finger print identification, also to give education to us. In our school there are five Computers. Their manufacturing company is B.B.C. micro-computer. We have three classes in a week. Our computer teachers are Miss Nandita Singh and Miss Paramjeet Sandhu. There are also computers which talk. After this year I don't know if I will see computers again.

Computers have become very important in our daily life. They help in many things. They also play a special role in the schooling of a child.

Computers are found almost everywhere, like in hospitals, offices, airports, schools and homes. There are different types of Computers which help in different types of work.

In the world of today man only depends on computers to do his work.

My School Fete

There was a lot of excitement on the 21st of May 1988. It was our school fete. Everyone of us was excited. It started at 1 o'clock, when the ribbon was cut by Sr. Nancy. I had Rs.200 for the fete.

At first when the fete started I was helping to sell the lucky caps. Everyone had to stand in a line to buy everything they needed. When most of the caps were sold, I went to the old hall to buy a table cloth. It was for Rs.25/-.

After that I met my big brother. He, Pradeep and I played a lot of games and bought a lot of things. Shaving the Balloon was my best game.

On that day I really enjoyed a lot with everyone.

Discovery!

Take a torch and a ball. On one side write India and on the other write America. Keep the torch in front of India then switch on the torch. On the side of India it will be day and on the other side, night. When there is day in India, in America it will be night.

A Robot's Birthday

I am a Robot.
But nobody cares,
Because when it is my Birthday,
Nobody gives me even a cake or a party.
All they do is,
Leave a can of oil,
And a candle on it,
For cares when a Robot is created.

Me Myself and I

I had a little Tea Party,
This afternoon at three,
It was very small,
Three guests in all.
Just I, Myself and Me.
Myself ate up the sandwiches
While I drank up the tea,
It was also I who ate the pie,
And passed the cake to me.

My School Sports Day

Sports day is a day that all school children look forward to. Our sports day was on 6th Oct. The guests were our parents and the Chief Guest was Rev. Bro. Carroll the Principal of St. George's College. We welcomed him with thunderous applause.

As soon as the Chief Guest was seated the drums began to beat for the march past. The Head Boy and the Games Captain led with the school flag followed by the rest of the houses and the tail ending with the girls of the school. We lined up before the Chief Guest and he then declared the games open.

The Pre-Primary class and Class One put up a cute P.T. display which was followed by the class races and surprise items for the visitors, helpers and ex-students. We then moved to the other field for the class and house relay races. This was the most exciting item of the day. There we were sitting on the steps and cheering our respective classes and houses. In the house relay the Red house topped, followed by the Yellow house. In the class V relay, my class V A were the winners. The Chief Guest and the visitors moved back to the main field for a tea break followed by P.T. displays by other classes. Class II put up a display of Dumbbells. Then class III marched in with their Wands. Class IV and V boys together put up a 'Club Swinging' act. This was followed by the Lezimes which was put up by the girls of classes II, III, IV & V. The gymnastics display was the show of the day, put up by the boys of classes IV & V.

With the show over, the respective houses lined up in front of the Chief Guest for the prize distribution. The winners of pre-determined events e.g., High jump, Broad jump, Triple jump and the Marathon were awarded their prizes first. Then came the exciting part: distribution of House Prizes. In the march past, it was the Blue House that reigned supreme. The Cock House of the year was the Yellow House. The best athlete of the year was Qjasvi Singh and the best all-rounder was Rahul Kumar. The Chief Guest spoke a few words to us and declared a holiday for us. As the sun was setting so set the sports day which was my last sports day as a student in this school.

If I Were a Fairy

If I were a fairy I would fly in the sky. I would go round the world and see which people were happy and which sad. Then I would give the message to God that some people are happy and some people are unhappy.

I would wear a white dress and have a magic wand in my hand. I would do magic whenever I wanted to. I would come in the night in poor children's dream and take away all their pain. They would thank me and I would give them my blessings everyday.

-- Nishant Chawla - III A

My Ambition

Every person has got an ambition to become something in life. We educate ourselves to enter into some vocation. Some people want to become doctors, others engineers. Some think of joining government service, others aim at becoming business men. Thus every person entertains some ambition, and works hard to achieve it.

I have my own ambition. I want to become an I.A.S. Officer. I want to serve my country by joining this service. This service will enable me to help poor persons. I want to make plans to improve their living. I do not want power for my ownself but for helping the poor and needy.

Diwali - The Festival of Lights

Diwali is one of our national festivals. It is celebrated all over the country in the month of November.

Many stories are associated with Diwali. Some say that Diwali celebrates Ram's return to Ayodhya from exile. Others say that Diwali celebrates the victory of Krishna over demon Narkasura.

Diwali is the festival of lights. On this day, houses are cleaned and illuminated with earthen lamps, candles and electric bulbs. Crackers are fired and fireworks displayed. Children rejoice and make merry. Friends greet each other. Women prepare nice dishes at home. Sweets are bought in plenty because they are exchanged among families. Goddess Laxmi is worshipped in almost every house.

Diwali is a beautiful festival.

The Lions Club Fete

Lion's Club Fete was held on 16th Oct. 1988. We were very excited.

When we reached there we saw lots of decorations and lots of people. Sister gave us the coupons to enter the Fete. Afterwards we started buying things. I bought sweets, supari, bubblegums and a maggi packet. I played only one game.

My partners were Anurag Gupta and Pravitt. I enjoyed with them very much.

A Story of the Cunning Fox

Once a hunter went to the forest for hunting. Suddenly he saw a deer. He hit the deer with an arrow, but the deer still ran. At last the deer fell on a stone.

A lion and a bear came, crossing a river. They both saw the deer, and started fighting for it. They jumped on each other. While the cruel animals fought a cunning fox came from behind a tree and ran away with the deer.

A member of the company turned towards Hardy and said, "Have you ever noticed that in the entire English language there is only one word - Sugar - beginning with 'su' that is pronounced as though beginning with 'sh'?" Hardy quietly remarked, "Are you sure?"

Once a madari was holding a show. After some talk to attract the attention of the public, he announced on the beat of the drum that whosoever takes dalda as cooking medium daily, he shall neither get old, nor be bitten by a dog, nor will a thief break into his house. The public asked him to explain what he meant. The madari said that such a person will not be able to sleep and will continue to cough the whole night through. Hence the thief finding him awake would not come near his house. He would become lame and so would always walk with the help of a stick. So no dog would come near him. He would die young and so would not ever become old.

- ३ एक आदमी बस में हमेशा सफर किया करता था। एक बार वह हवाईजहाज में सफर करने निकला। जहाज के उड़ने से पहले वह पायलट के पास जाकर बोला, कि ईजन तो ठीक है? पायलट ने कहा "हाँ"। दुबारा वह आदमी फिर पूछने मया कि जहाज के टायर में हवा तो है। पायलट ने कहा "हाँ।" वह बार-बार पायलट के पास कुछ-कुछ पूछता रहा। तंग आकर पायलट ने पूछा कि "तुम क्यों परेशान हो रहे हो?" उस आदमी ने उत्तर दिया कि कहीं मुझे वाद में धक्का न लगाना पड़े।"

कविता

मधुर चिड़िया

ची ची बोली प्यारी चिड़िया
नन्ही सी अति प्यारी चिड़िया
मीठे गीत सुनाती है यह
भट-पट उड़ उड़ जाती है यह
जी करता है मैं उसके संग उड़
उड़ जाऊँ आसमान तक।

गाना अच्छे बच्चे

अच्छे बच्चे बनना हमको अच्छा लगता है। दिन दुःखी की सेवा करना अच्छा लगता है। न कोई ऊँचा न कोई नीचा भारत का है एक बगीचा। फूलों के संग हँसना हमको अच्छा लगता है। खूब पढ़े और जी भर खेलें गुरु का मान कभी न भूलें। सतपूरशों का आदर करना अच्छा लगता है। दिन दुःखी की सेवा करना अच्छा लगता है। हिन्दू-मुस्लिम सिक्ख-ईसाई आपस में सब भाई भाई। मिल जुल कर रहना हमको अच्छा लगता है। दिन दुःखी की सेवा करना अच्छा लगता है। अच्छे बच्चे बनना हमको अच्छा लगता है।

चुटकुला

एक बार एक क्लास में बहुत सारे बच्चे पढ़ते थे । उस क्लास की टीचर
सबको मारती थी । लेकिन एक बच्चे को वह नहीं मारती थी । एक दिन
छुट्टी के बाद सारे बच्चों ने उस उस बच्चे से पूछा कि टीचर तुम्हें क्यों नहीं
मारती ? वह बच्चा गा कर बोला, मैं हूँ मर्द टांगे वाला, मैं हूँ मर्द टांगे वाला, मुझे टीचर क्या मारेगी, मैं हूँ प्रिंसीपल का साला ।
