A Story that Touches Hearts

Little Krishna loved eating sweets and juicy fruits. One day, he met Sukhiya, a fruit seller, who had not been able to sell a single fruit all day. Krishna gave her some wheat grains as payment, but most of them fell on the way. When he reached her, only four grains remained. Seeing his innocence and pure heart, Sukhiya gave him all the fruits, saying, "Your happiness is more valuable than any payment." Later, her empty basket was filled with precious diamonds and pearls — a blessing from Lord Krishna for her selfless kindness.

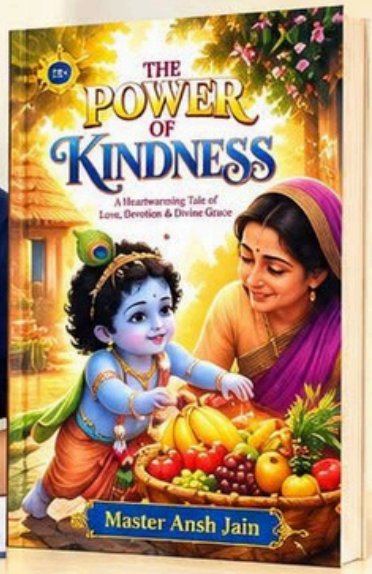

MORAL:

Do good deeds with honesty and kindness without expecting anything in return.

"Kindness is a language that even the youngest hearts can speak, and it has the power to change the world."
