Off to Neverland

To the boy who sat silent aside,
To the girl who often tried to hide.
To all who felt as a forgotten toy,
Right there on the shelf behind.

Hold on till we fly away and draft an escape.
Soon we'll fix each other's missing shape.
And then we'll be as free as an ape.

A place where we'll only have an 'us'.
All we'll need will be a little trust and pixie dust!
Without being questioned we'll freely discuss.

The breeze, God will blow till we sleep smiling strong.
From clouds to rocks to the rose flowers,
All jiggling to have fun all along.

No anger, no pain, no ache,
The clashes, the fights will only in the books be read.
No one would grow to become so fake.
No one would know to sketch a crime,
Peter Pan was right.. "growing up is waste of time."

Black & White Day

Black and White Day was celebrated on 22 July, 2022 by our tiny tots to explore the world of rhyming, pandas and penguins.

Puppets inculcate a sense of magic, creativity and imagination of children. So our tiny magicians utilised the opportunity and made use of their skills to make puppets. We shared stories and enjoyed the day in the adobe of our children's mighty creative personality.

A Tree's Life

Buds in the spring,
Just starting to break
Green fuzz on the branches,
On the trees by the lake.

In the summer they're open
Green and bright
The tree is full,
It glistens in the light.

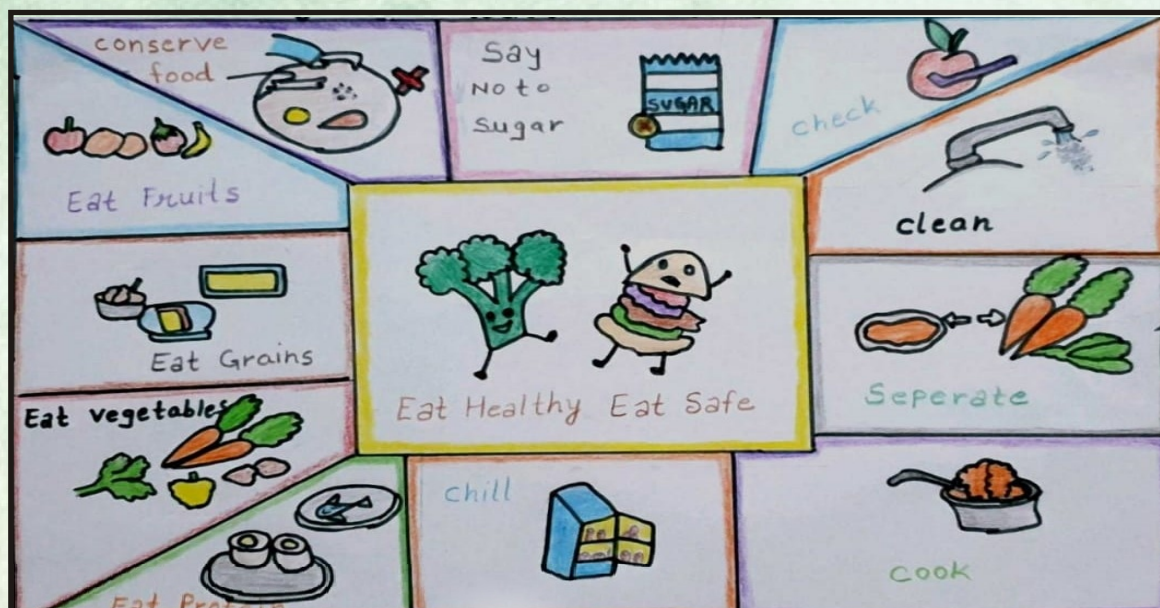

Reds and Browns
Falling off the tree.
In the cool of fall,
With the buzzing of bees.

Gone in the winter
The tree is bare
It sleeps through the cold
But the leaves are not there.

They will come again,
With the cycle of life
Going through every year
Through the hard times and strife.
