

“When you start counting your blessings, your whole life turns around”

Dear Parents,

Let us bow our heads in gratitude before the Almighty for His copious blessings and graces bestowed on us during the session 2024-2025. It is due to your unstinted co-operation and the grace of the Almighty that we have been able to conclude the academic year on a happy note. Let us work together as a team to promote understanding, independent thinking and initiative thus giving wings to the imagination and creativity of our children and widen their horizons to form them as men and women of character. This calls for a lot of interest, patience and sacrifice on your part, dear parents, especially during the formative years of your ward. Nothing else can compensate for your personal interest and involvement in your son/daughter's life and activities.

Character formation is as important as academic and cultural activities and emotional health is what our children lack today. Once again, it is my earnest request that you give quality time to your children, appreciate and encourage them, take interest in their life and activities. These are their precious years. Nothing can really substitute the love and care they receive from their parents and the sweet memories these would evoke in their adult life. These lay the foundations for a meaningful and rich life. Kindly ensure that they imbibe the right values and are courteous and respectful in their dealings. Keep in touch with the teachers of your ward. We have a common goal, that is the welfare of your child and as educators and parents we have to work together to promote the all-round growth of our tomorrow's citizens, to build up their future.

- Let's become role models to our children as they look at us for examples.
- It's a truth that the power to turn our children into a genius largely rests with you the parents.
- Let's fill our children's mind and brain with vibrant and positive thoughts.
- Let our children know that there are myriad ways that are available for them to fulfil their dreams, visions and aspirations.
- The confidence that we show is the confidence that our children get, to do even the impossible.
- Just like contagious diseases, many good and bad traits are often transmitted from one person to another, especially from us to our children.
- We have provided shelter to our children. We clothe and feed them every day, but do we often examine whether we provide them with wholesome, healthy and nourishing positive thoughts.
- Remember, Patience is one of the most powerful tools which was instrumental in creating many a genius.
- Let's not just aim to make our children achievers at everything our children try or attempt. Let's make their life an enjoyable, pleasant and exciting day to day experience.
- God has invested in you many of His rich resources. You are a vast storehouse of resources which can make your children genius. Unleash them for the love of your child.
- We have heard that a healthy mind grows in a healthy body. Let us know that it is not only true, but very true. An exercised body, spirited sportsmanship, good sense of humour, love for music and nature are all essential identification marks of a genius.
