Respected Parents and Dear Students

As we approach the Mid-Term Examinations / Half Yearly Examinations, I would like to wish every student the very best. Examinations are not merely a test of knowledge; they are an opportunity to reflect on your hard work, preparation, discipline and commitment towards your goals.

Dear Students, remember that success is not achieved overnight. It is built through consistent efforts, sincere practice and a focused mind. Every day of preparation matters. Revise regularly, clarify your doubts, practise important concepts and make the best use of the time available to you.

At this stage, I encourage you to :

- Work hard and study with a clear plan.
- Remain disciplined in your daily routine and examination preparation.
- Be consistent rather than depending on last-minute preparation.
- Stay focused and avoid unnecessary distractions.
- Revise thoroughly and practise writing answers within the given time.
- Maintain a positive attitude and believe in your own abilities.
- Take adequate rest, eat well and maintain a healthy routine so that you can give your best.

Less Screen Time, More "Me Time"

Dear Students, these days of preparation are precious. Put the phone aside and give yourself more "Me Time" — time to read, revise, reflect, relax and recharge. The less time you spend scrolling, the more time you have to learn, grow and work towards your goals. Let your screen time decrease and your focus, creativity and confidence increase.

Dear Parents, your encouragement and support plays a vital role in your child's success. Please provide a calm and positive environment at home, monitor their study routine with care, and motivate them to give their sincere rather than placing undue pressure on marks. Kindly support your children in maintaining limited and purposeful screen time, especially during the examination period.

Let us remember that every examination is a stepping stone towards greater learning and growth. Do not be afraid of mistakes; learn from them and keep improving. I urge every student to enter the examination hall with confidence, discipline and determination. Give your best, remain honest in your efforts, and let your performance reflect your preparation. May your sincere efforts bring you success and make you proud of your achievements.

Wishing all our students the very best for the upcoming Mid-Term Examinations / Half Yearly Examinations.

With blessings and best wishes
May The Sacred Heart of Jesus bless you all.
