Dear diary,

If we have a national holiday it should be National Heroes' Day in honour of the true heroes who are saving millions of lives every second. This includes doctors, police officers, hospital staff, sanitary workers, nurses and many others who are giving up their lives to keep us safe. Let us beat this virus and show our utmost respect to these heroes. Bhadra B Mohan VIII AKendriya Vidyalaya No 1,

Dear diary,

If we could have a new national holiday, it should be National Parents; Day observed on July 26 every year. Like the United States and South Korea, India too could make it a national holiday.

Parents are the greatest of gifts a child can have. They are a symbol of unconditional love. But there are many innocent children who do not have parents. So on this day, we must encourage two things - donation and adoption. Only by such acts can our country see love and affectionate bonds flourish.
