Word of the day

Circumnavigate

Meaning: To travel around in a big circle, especially by ship or plane.

Origin: The word 'circumnavigate' is derived from 'circum' meaning 'around' and 'navigare' meaning 'to navigate'. It was first used in the era when sailors were trying to find new lands they didn't know about, and so the ;around' in question was the trip around the entire earth. 'Circumnavigate' is also used to describe something that's too difficult to go through, such as a massive crowd at a festival.

Usage: 1. He was the first person to complete the cirucmnaviaation of Australia.

2. He gave up his circumnavigation attempt after his ship hit an iceberg.

Journal Writing

Dear Diary

Today is my best friend's birthday. Since it's lockdown time, we decided to...

a note and mail it to us at school@thehindu.co.in. We will select a few for publication when we resume

Imagine and write. You may even type

Today's Diary Picks Dear Diary,

I was wondering how awesome it would be to have our classroom in a tree-house amidst the great Daintree forest of Australia! The buzzing of bees, screeching of bats and creaking of crickets finding their way through our ears... What a beautiful place to spend our learning time! They say learning happens effortlessly in a place where our heart wants to reside. I would love to learn in the safety-ensured tree-house with bamboo made benches, boards made of slate stone.

In a fabulous natural tree-house for a classroom, breaks will be fun. We can roam around the forest. Lunch-time would be shared with the nearby residents like butterflies and tree kangaroos. A thought of the environment brings heavenly fulfilment to the heart. In contrast to ideal classrooms, where sometimes learning is mechanical, these tree-house classrooms would serve as happiness classrooms where words like stress and depression have no place. Dear Diary,
How cool it would be if my classroom was located in the moon! Students on floating benches, teachers having pens that can write upside down and under water, chalks and notebooks all floating, the ability to do backflips without much effort, drinking water suspended in thin air in various shapes, and so on... How we would love to go to school! People feel that space research is a waste of time, but I strongly believe that it is the one thing which is going to help us in the future. S.N. Aakash Nandhan
