PRESS RELEASE

PANKAJ POLYMERS LIMITED STRENGTHENS ITS DIGITAL COMMERCE ECOSYSTEM THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS WITH LEADING B2C AND D2C BRANDS

Noida, Uttarpradesh - September 29, 2026: Pankaj Polymers Limited ("Pankaj Polymers" or the "Company") has entered into strategic partnerships with leading B2C and D2C industry players to enable the issuance, sale and distribution of digital vouchers through its AI-enabled technology platform.

As part of its B2C initiative, the Company has entered into partnerships with 99 Gifts, Hubble Money, Daalchini and Magicpin for the sale and distribution of vouchers to end consumers.

Through these partnerships, Pankaj Polymers will leverage its AI-enabled technology platform to facilitate the distribution of digital vouchers and connect participating brands and distribution platforms with a broader consumer base. The initiative is aimed at creating a technology-enabled ecosystem for seamless voucher distribution and consumer engagement.

In addition, the Company has entered into partnerships with leading D2C brands Yoho and Blossom to power the issuance and distribution of e-vouchers. The collaboration will enable these brands to leverage Pankaj Polymers' technology platform for digital voucher solutions and provide an additional digital channel to engage with their customers.

The Company's platform brings together brands, distribution partners and consumers through technology-led voucher solutions, supporting the growing adoption of digital commerce and digital gifting.

With these partnerships, Pankaj Polymers is expanding its presence across both the B2C distribution and D2C brand ecosystem, while continuing to develop its technology capabilities in the evolving fintech and digital commerce space.

Building a Technology-Led Digital Ecosystem

The partnerships with 99 Gifts, Hubble Money, Daalchini and Magicpin are focused on voucher sales and distribution to end consumers, while the partnerships with Yoho and Blossom are focused on powering e-voucher issuance and distribution for D2C brands.

Through these collaborations, Pankaj Polymers is building a connected digital ecosystem that enables brands and distribution partners to leverage technology for voucher issuance, distribution and consumer engagement.

The Company intends to further build on this ecosystem by establishing additional partnerships with brands and distribution platforms and expanding the range of technology-enabled solutions available through its platform.

About Pankaj Polymers Limited

Pankaj Polymers Limited is transitioning towards a technology-led business model with a focus on fintech, digital commerce and technology-enabled solutions.

The Company is developing its capabilities across digital payment and commerce-related solutions, including digital vouchers, e-commerce and other technology-enabled services, with an emphasis on creating scalable platforms that connect businesses and consumers.
